

Ultimate Interaction of Sound and Space

Serving home theaters, recording studios, and audiophiles, Imp Audio is dedicated to delivering the ultimate sound experience in the context of your living or work space. Placement of equipment and variations in room dynamics can compromise your sound quality in countless ways. Our mission is to unearth every problem area, and restore full integrity to your sound system.

Acoustic Lab In Your Living Room

The unique properties of each combination of room, amplifier and speakers, yield varying acoustics and subtleties in the sound. Using a suite of specialized diagnostic tests tailored to your environment, we can perform comprehensive acoustic measurement from component-level testing to complete end-to-end system evaluation. These highly accurate tests take the guesswork out of fine-tuning your sound quality, and demonstrate how sound is interacting with the properties of your living space.

Propel Your Sound System to New Heights

Detailed test results summarize strengths and weaknesses, and determine the course of action proposed to remedy any system shortfalls. Our expert technicians are at your service to provide calibration and programming services to refine and sharpen your sound quality to its full potential. Final measurements are taken to guarantee an optimal outcome.
